

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	7
THE WEAKENING OF THE PARTY STATE	9
Introduction	9
The demotic writers' movement	13
Civic radicalism in Hungary	21
The demotic-urban debate.	26
1985 – Changes in the Soviet Union. Transforming foreign policy	27
The beginnings of change	30
THE GENESIS OF THE HUNGARIAN DEMOCRATIC FORUM	33
A new generation in intellectual life	33
Tiszatáj and the Bethlen Foundation.	35
From the Writers' Association assembly to the Lakitelek meeting.	37
THE GENESIS OF THE ALLIANCE OF FREE DEMOCRATS	41
Opposition behaviour	41
Scientific preparation and socialisation in research institutes	45
The Monor meeting	51
The Soros Foundation	56
The forming of the Alliance of Free Democrats	57
THE GENESIS OF FIDESZ	63
Special colleges and clubs	63
Demand for a follow-up	66
The fortunate political moment	68
1988 – THE BEGINNINGS OF TRANSFORMATION	71
The transformation of the MSZMP – the social democratic experiment	71
Legislation in a changing political environment	76
The beginnings of the multi-party system.	81
1989 – ACCELERATING TRANSITION	91
The 1956 revolution and the Imre Nagy issue	91
The Soviet Union, East Germany, and other countries	94

The Opposition Round Table, the first national assembly of the MDF, and the appearance of József Antall in the MDF	96
Legislation and the Round Table	100
Legislation during the transition	107
MSZMP – the split	120
The declaration of the Republic	122
The referendum	123
Summary of 1989	129
1990 – THE FIRST YEAR OF DEMOCRACY	133
The Danube-gate scandal	133
The Parliamentary elections	136
The pact.	140
The beginning of governance.	147
JÓZSEF ANTALL	149
Political legacy.	149
Antall, Pozsgay, and the MDF	154
The disease	156
1990–1994 – THE FIRST TERM	161
Unforeseen difficulties.	161
The local elections.	163
The Taxi Blockade	164
The Acts on Annulment, on Compensation, and the Agent Act	169
Transformation of the political spectrum	176
Antall’s forecast	184
SUMMARY, CONCLUSIONS, AND OUTLOOK	185
COULD IT HAVE BEEN DONE BETTER?	193
TIMELINE	213
SOURCES AND LITERATURE.	219
EPILOGUE.	231
INDEX.	235
PHOTOS	241